Meet Your Presenters...

Katherine Smith Dedrick, a partner at Childress Duffy, Ltd., focuses on insurance recovery and coverage matters for policyholders. Her experience includes international and national policyholder representation in risk management/disaster recovery and insurance coverage matters. Prior to representing policyholders, Katherine was national coverage counsel for an insurance company focusing on environmental, asbestos and unfair claims practice matters throughout the United States. She counseled many insurance company departments including underwriting and claims, as well as executive branches. In addition, she taught classes to claim handlers on how to handle claims, construe policy language, and unfair claims practices.

Andrew M. Plunkett, a partner at Childress Duffy, Ltd., focuses his practice on the handling and resolution of insurance disputes on behalf of policyholders nationwide. He represents corporate, public, and private policyholders in large property losses both in terms of benefits recovery and coverage issues. He advises, consults, and represents the insured on insurance policy interpretation and loss valuation to ensure the fair resolution to a claim, as well as identifying additional funding when acts or omissions of third parties contributed to the loss. Andrew is active with the National Association of Public Adjusters (NAPIA) and was instrumental in co-founding the Association of Midwest Public Insurance Adjusters (AMPPIA).
